

ELEVEN NAVAL AIRMEN KILLED LITTLE BUSINESS MEN IN NEAR RIOT

CONFERENCE BREAKS UP IN UPROAR BUT ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL AID BY STIMULATING PRIVATE CREDIT URGED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—The administration's "little business" conference adjourned in an uproar today, after voting a program of economic advice to President Roosevelt.

Two delegates forcibly were tossed out of Secretary Roper's spacious commerce department auditorium, in a vain effort to quiet a feverish tumult, before Chairman Fred Roth, Cleveland, Ohio, pounded the gavel the last time.

Despite shouted protests, the conference adopted reports of nine committees which recommended, among other things, that the government supply financial aid by stimulating private credit.

An unusual calm smoothed the disorderly confusion immediately after adjournment. Businessmen who had been talking and shouting a moment before sat back in their chairs to pose for photographers.

Both of those ejected a few moments earlier had wanted to address the conference before it closed.

A. S. Shafer, of Philadelphia was removed from the scene for the second time. Commerce department guard him out of yesterday's meeting. The business men, however, told his trousers off while tossing him out themselves today.

The forgotten man, Robert Kemper, who termed himself the forgotten man of New York, was thrown out by a squad of plainclothes policemen, after he too became involved in an argument over demands that he be heard.

The uproar attendant on the two adjournments threw the whole meeting into a noisy chaos with most of the 1,000 present jamming the aisles, standing on the chairs, and yelling for order. Cries of "throw him out" were directed at both Kemper and Shafer.

In the midst of this racket and confusion cries of "adjournment" caught the attention of Chairman Roth of Cleveland, O. He put the question and an echoing "aye" ended the conference.

After Shafer had been removed from the scene, Charles P. Bloomer, executive vice president of the wearing apparel board of trade of Pennsylvania, fought his way to the platform shouting at the top of his voice:

"This man does not represent Philadelphia business men."

Accompanied to Sidewalks, Shafer, who wore a sign saying "We want a Roosevelt chairman," not a Roosevelt, was only pitched out of the auditorium, but Kemper was accompanied to the sidewalk outside the Commerce department building.

New disruptions in the program scheduled for the meeting.

Song Leader

WALTER R. JENKINS

Plans were reported complete Thursday for the twentieth annual membership meeting of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce at the Senior High school cafeteria next Tuesday night, February 8, at 7 o'clock. Tickets are on sale for the event, and may be secured at the chamber office, P. and S. Pharmacy or from V. E. Wendorf, chairman of the sales committee.

Joseph W. Evans, Houston civic and business leader, will be the principal speaker for the occasion.

Entertainment features will be supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Jenkins of Houston. Mrs. Jenkins is a well-known artist, while her husband has a national reputation. For ten consecutive years he had been song leader for Rotary International and for eight years has been choir director and soloist for the First Methodist church in Houston. Besides appearing as soloist for the Houston Symphony Orchestra, and Memphis Philharmonic Orchestra. He also was soloist and song leader for Billy Sunday, noted evangelist, for two and a half years.

A half business program has been arranged in addition to the inspirational address and entertainment features.

All reservations for the meeting must be made by noon Monday, Feb. 7.

GERMAN ARMY MAKES SHOWDOWN DEMAND NAZI PARTY CRISIS

SPANISH INSURGENTS BOMB AMBULANCE TRAIN; JAPAN WATCHES U. S.

By The Associated Press.—The German army's demand for a showdown with the Nazi party, a Spanish insurgent bombardment of an American-French caravan of ambulances and supply trucks, and Japanese concern over American naval expansion developed today from friction in an unsettled world.

Three Spaniards were killed and 12 persons were injured in the air bombing at Figueras, 15 miles below the Franco-Spanish frontier, but it was not known whether Americans were hurt.

The marriage of Marshal Werner von Blomberg to a carpenter's daughter and his subsequent resignation as war minister touched off the German crisis.

Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch, commander-in-chief of the army and its spokesman in suggesting Von Blomberg's resignation—still officially unannounced—was believed to have tendered his own resignation, but only after contending he had 18 commanding generals behind him.

The 19 stood together in the insistence that Germany's traditional Christianity, long subject to Nazi Neo-Pagan attacks, alone should continue to be the nation's guiding principle. Von Fritsch was said to have insisted that Neo-paganism was disrupting army morale.

Spanish morale fronts were generally quiet while the insurgents' first cabinet prepared to give their two-thirds of Spain an "enlightened" dictatorship.

Anxiety over the United States' proposed $500,000,000 naval expansion was expressed by Japanese naval office spokesman. He said it "must be taken into serious consideration."

Commanders of the Japanese invasion of China marked out an area of Central China roughly equivalent to the areas of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, and asked Americans and other foreigners to leave while Tokyo armies sought to crush their foe.

A Japanese embassy spokesman at Shanghai indicated many points within the war-zone would be See INTERNATIONAL, Page 8

INSURGENT SPAIN GET 'ENLIGHTENED' DICTATORSHIP PLAN

LONG-TIME POLICIES DETAILED BY CABINET CREATED BY FRANCO

HENDAYE, France. (At the Spanish Frontier), Feb. 3.—(P)—Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's first ministry began today to reveal its program of government to give insurgent Spain an "enlightened" dictatorship.

The cabinet, created by Franco to administer the Spanish territory which he controls, detailed its long-time policies, including: A labor charter, "based on the working class," and providing separate unions for workers, technicians and employers.

A press statute guaranteeing freedom of the press.

A public works program for reconstruction of devastated regions, and an Agrarian plan for loans to farmers and "delicious redistribution of land."

A foreign policy based on "peace compatible with the dignity of great peoples."

A financial program claiming "all that belonged to Spanish soil as well as treasures which have been stolen from Spain."

The cabinet adopted its program of reconstruction policy at its Burgos seat yesterday. It was broadcast to the nation last night, another step in furthering the regime which Franco has modeled along fascist lines and which hopes to supplant completely the Madrid-Barcelona administration of the republic.

The military situation, meanwhile, remained quiet.

Ambulance Train Bombed. PERPIGNAN, France, Feb. 3.—(P)—An American-French train of ambulances and food trucks was bombed today by insurgent planes in Spain with a loss of three lives Spanish government border authorities reported.

Twelve persons were reported seriously injured in the attack.

WAGNER DECLARES ANTI-LYNCHING BILL VOTE TO BE FORCED

ONE OF AUTHORS OF BILL SPEAKS FOR CONSTITUTIONALITY OF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—Senator Wagner (D-NY) said today friends of the anti-lynching bill were "determined to have" a vote on the much-talked-about legislation that has been filibustered for a month.

Defending its constitutionality, Wagner, one of the authors of the measure, told the senate "either we should vote down an anti-lynching bill, thus announcing once and for all that we will do nothing about the lynching evil, or we should promptly pass the measure now before us."

While the New Yorker spoke, members of the house plodded along with debate on the District of Columbia appropriation bill.

Before the discussion started house naval committee members heard of the German crisis.

Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, testified the United States never had a 5-3 ratio of fighting ships with Japan because of the necessity of keeping part of the fleet in the Atlantic.

On the senate side, J. Warren Madden, chairman of the national labor relations board, told the judiciary committee in plain spoken words that he was neither biased nor incompetent, and, he added, it had no "illusions about remaking the social order."

Advices Liquor Control Board Are Conflicting

Conflicting advices from the Texas Liquor Control Board officials have left County Judge Paul H. Miller "holding the sack" he reported Thursday morning.

After the hearing of the injunction by Judge Wayne R. Howell late last week, preventing carrying out mandates of the re-licensing act, the county judge sought advice from the district office of the Liquor Control Board at Waco. He was advised to accept applications for beer licenses as fast as they came, five being filed through Thursday morning.

However, he received new advices from the Waco officials Thursday morning to the effect that the liquor administrator at Austin had reported to district officials there was no need of forwarding the applications since they would not be honored.

Judge Miller said that he did not know what the next move in the tangle would be.

DEFENDANT TAKES STAND AND TELLS OF FATAL SHOOTING

CONSTABLE MAINTAINS HE SHOT CAFE OWNER TO SAVE OWN LIFE

Earl Jones, constable of Leon county, took the witness stand in his own behalf Thursday morning and related incidents and circumstances leading up to the fatal shooting of Barney McCoslin at Buffalo, August 27, last year. He maintained he shot McCoslin in defense of his own life after McCoslin was pulling a pistol from his pocket. Several other defense witnesses testified Thursday morning, including two who were present at the time of the slaying.

Indications at noon Thursday were that the defense would rest during the afternoon and State rebuttal testimony was expected to be started. Conclusion of testimony is expected to be made either late Thursday or some time Friday. State attorneys have said he had never been charged in long recess in the investigation later today or tomorrow. The inquiry began eight days ago.

Among those for whom the committee said it was searching were George Davidson, Sr., of Eastland, McDonald's home city; F. S. Sheridan, McDonald's campaign manager in Houston in 1936; and J. T. Dawson, geologist.

He killed Barney McCoslin to keep him from killing me," the constable stated.

Jones is now serving his third term as constable and prior to

WRIGHT TELLS HIS STORY FROM WITNESS STAND

Paul A. Wright (left) is shown on the witness stand in Los Angeles, where he told how he found his wife and a friend, John Kimmel, in embrace and remembered nothing about shooting them, for which he was on trial. COMPROMISE FARM BILL EXPECTED BE PASSED NEXT WEEK

MEASURE, DESIGNED STABILIZE AGRICULTURE HAS BEEN COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—Administration leaders predicted today congress would enact the compromise farm bill next week.

The measure, designed to stabilize agriculture along lines of the ever-normal granary advocated by Secretary Wallace, was completed last night by a dozen senators and representatives. Assigned the task five weeks ago of combining separate farm bills.

The legislation provides for control of wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco.

The bill will have priority when it is submitted to the senate and house.

Just before the conferees reached their agreement, they approved a provision, which Senator Smith (D-S. C.) said would hasten payment of part of the $130,000,000 bonus voted by congress in the 1937 cotton crop.

Growers who complied with the 1938 program.

Smith said cotton growers could turn over some 5,000,000 bales of cotton on which the government has made loans and collect 2 cents a pound, or about $10 a bale, of the 1937 bonus.

The government, he said, must hold this cotton off the market unless prices climb before July 31, 1939, when it can be released gradually over a three-year period.

Otherwise, conferees said, they left unchanged provisions previously accepted for the five major crops.

To Estimate Needs. The agriculture committee would estimate production of any of the five crops needed in a season and divide this figure among states, counties and individuals.

HEATH IS WITNESS IN PROBE OF STATE LAND OFFICE TODAY

COMMITTEE EXPECTED RECESS THURSDAY DUE TO INABILITY GET WITNESSES

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(P)—W. V. Heath, assistant attorney general under William McCraw until last month, testified today before the state land office committee.

Tom C. Clark of Dallas did not request him to help procure a receivership job for Land Commissioner William H. McDonald or anyone else.

Clark, now an assistant United States attorney general, was McCraw's law partner before McCraw took office. His name has been mentioned occasionally in the current senate committee investigation of McDonald.

The committee, still unable to obtain attendance of several witnesses, indicated it would call a long recess in the investigation later today or tomorrow. The inquiry began eight days ago.

Among those for whom the committee said it was searching were George Davidson, Sr., of Eastland, McDonald's home city; F. S. Sheridan, McDonald's campaign manager in Houston in 1936; and J. T. Dawson, geologist.

Two Motorcycle Patrolmen Hurt In 2 Accidents

Two motorcycle patrolmen were injured almost simultaneously in two separate accidents in and near Corsicana Wednesday afternoon.

G. A. Ragdale of Santa Anna, one of the State Highway motorcycle patrolmen stationed here, received two fractures to his right leg below the knee when he figured in an accident on highway 75 about 10 miles north of Corsicana, near Rice. He was reported to have been trailing an automobile and another machine out in between them, resulting in his motorcycle striking the second car. He was brought to the Navarro Clinic in a private automobile and given first aid treatment. X-ray pictures revealed the fractures in his leg, but did not show any other broken bones. He was not thought to have any other injuries, and was resting nicely Thursday at the clinic.

M. O. Adams, city motorcycle traffic patrolman, received a slight injury to one leg and one arm when his motorcycle was reported to have skidded into a street car track at Seventh avenue at Beaton street late Wednesday afternoon. X-ray pictures failed to reveal any broken bones, and after first aid treatment at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic for superficial injuries, he was taken home.

FOREIGNERS TOLD TO GET OUT LARGE CHINESE TERRITORY

JAPAN'S ARMY MARKED OUT NEW WAR ZONE IN EAST CENTRAL CHINA

SHANGHAI, Feb. 3.—(P)—Japan's armed forces marked out a huge area of east central China as a new war zone today and asked Americans and other foreigners there to leave.

The Japanese embassy spokesman announced the decision under which it was indicated many points would be subjected to bombardment in Nippon's drive to crush Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese armies.

The request was issued, he said, by the Japanese embassy in Peking, the "new capital" where Japan has installed its provisional north China government.

American and other foreign embassies there received a note that, in view of the spread of warfare, neutral foreigners in the zone should evacuate and mark their properties so Japanese airmen would not bomb them.

I was recommended that Japanese authorities be given maps showing the location of such properties—most of which are missions—and that the Japanese be notified of the nature of protective markings.

Roughly the area specified in the warning extends from the winding Yangtze river on the south to a line running from the southernmost coast of Shantung province to Taiyuan, Shanxi province capital, on the north.

The zone encompasses about 376,000 square miles, including about 20 towns in which American missions are located and 32 which are the sites of other foreign missions.

WRIGHT FACES NEW GRILLING THURSDAY ON MURDER CHARGE

LOS ANGELES AIRPORT EXECUTIVE EXHAUSTED BY TWO DAYS ON STAND

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—(P)—The defense in the Paul Wright murder trial struck back today at the state's attempt to show that Wright could not have survived his wife and friend John Kimmel, embracing in the living room of his home.

At the instance of his attorney Wright stretched out his legs and propped his foot on the rail before the witness chair to show the jury he was wearing rubber-heeled shoes—the same shoes, the defense said, that he wore the night of November 9 when he shot to death his wife and Kimmel.

Wright also walked before the jurors to prove he made virtually no noise when he came into the living room where Mrs. Wright and Kimmel were together.

To a query as to why he had changed the beneficiary of an insurance policy from Mrs. Wright to their young daughter, Helen, Wright replied that he had done so on the advice of his banker after they had discussed "Evelyn's apparent inability to appreciate the value of money."

The airport executive's counsel, Jerry Geisler, led him back over much of the testimony he gave during cross-examination of Prosecutor S. B. Roll, who pounded away at Wright's story until the frail, dyspeptic defendant collapsed on the stand and had to be assisted from the courtroom.

Roll drew the admission from See WRIGHT TRIAL, Page 11.

THOMPSON APPEALS TO OTHER OIL STATES TO CO-OPERATE IN REDUCING OIL PRODUCTION

Farm Owners And Operators Urged Fill Worksheets

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(P)—The continuing rise in gasoline and crude oil stocks led Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate compact commission, to appeal again to the other oil states for co-operation in trimming production.

"Our Sunday shutdown has reduced Texas output by about 178,000 barrels per day," Thompson said in a written statement. "Other states have shown an understanding of the present problem and have made some cuts, but I am calling the alarming figures on gasoline and oil storage to the attention of the industry for careful study."

Estimates of the Oil and Gas Journal placed the decline in Texas production last week at 168,306 barrels whereas the output of the rest of the nation increased around 17,000 barrels.

"Gasoline stocks on hand today are 84,844,000 barrels," Thompson said. "This is an all time peak. In March, 1937, we had 382,000,000 barrels of crude oil on hand. Today crude stocks above ground are 304,424,000 barrels, and this is only the first of February. Last year we did not have the depression that is now upon us."

"We in Texas and the other oil states are really manufacturers of these unsaleable barrels of oil and gasoline. It is good sense to continue to produce more oil than the market demands or can absorb."

Agent Robinson asserted the filling out of the worksheet carried with it no obligation whatsoever as far as either the 1937 or 1938 programs were concerned; he also pointed out such procedure would aid in establishing new production basis for every farm and would enable the producer to apply for a 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment if desired at a later date.

He stated that each community committee member should be at his customary headquarters during next week with no long trip would be necessary for any farmer.

PREACHING MISSION ST. JOHN'S CHURCH LAST PART FEBRUARY

ALL EPISCOPAL CHURCHES IN DALLAS DIOCESE IN-CLUDED IN PROGRAM

DALLAS, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—Special services will be held in twenty-three Episcopal churches in the diocese of Dallas, including St. John's church, Corsicana, in the diocesan-wide preaching mission to be conducted the last two weeks of February, the Rt. Rev. Harry T. Moore, Bishop of Dallas, has announced.

Plans for the mission were formulated by the clergy of the diocese under the direction of Bishop Moore. The majority of priests in the diocese will take an active part in the mission, and a number of leading churchmen from other dioceses will be guest speakers.

The diocesan-wide mission is an outgrowth of the Forward Movement of the National Episcopal church, inaugurated several years ago, Bishop Moore explained. All clergymen of the diocese will follow a specially-prepared outline in conducting their series of talks. The general topics of the mission, which will last for six days in each parish, will be "God the Father," "The Person of Our Lord," "The Holy Spirit," "The Holy Trinity," "Sin," "Grace," and "Eternal Life."

Missions will be conducted in Corsicana, Weatherford, Paris, Brownwood, Terrell, Greenville, Wichita Falls, Denison, Texarkana, Denton, Sherman, Cleburne, McKinney, Hamilton (Hamilton County), Mineral Wells, Hubbard (Hill County), Waxahachie, Fort Worth, and Dallas. The complete schedule for the missions in all of these towns will be announced within a few days.

DR. A. J. WEEKS SPEAKER ELEVENTH AVENUE METHODIST

Dr. A. J. Weeks of Dallas, editor and publisher of the Southwestern Advocate, official church paper for Texas and Oklahoma of the Methodist Church, South, was the principal speaker at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church last night.

The members of the First Methodist church met jointly with the Eleventh Avenue church for this meeting which was the fourth and last meeting in a series on Aldersgate under direction of the pastor, Rev. B. B. Byus, the opening prayer was given by Rev. Roy A. Langston pastor of the First Methodist church, the singing was led by Rev. Mr. Byus.

Dr. Weeks one of the old timers in Methodism has served his church in many important fields in the mission field, as pastor, presiding elder and now as publisher, he is always an interesting speaker and at one time was the principal speaker for the Brotherhood banquet at the First Methodist church.

His theme Wednesday night was Aldersgate, he told of a trip he made at one time to London and of his visit to the exact spot on Aldersgate street where John Wesley founder of Methodism had his heart warming experience. Dr. Weeks also told of his visit to White Russia.

He explained that the present Aldersgate campaign in connection with the second phase of the Bishops' Crusade was an effort to make Methodism, Aldersgate, conscious and an effort for Methodists to re-capture the spiritual flame that belonged to Wesley.

The speaker stated that when John Wesley died there were only 100 Methodist ministers and less than 150,000 Methodists, he stated that in Texas there were over 400,000 Methodists and in the world 50,000,000 Methodists. He stated that this would mean for Christian principals if aroused to its possibilities in the religious field.

All Baptist S. S. Workers Called to Meet in Corsicana

Mrs. Lester Roloff, secretary, announces that all Baptist Sunday school teachers and officers are urged to be present at the First Baptist church, Corsicana, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. This is the regular meeting of the Corsicana associational officers and workers. At this time there will be an inspirational talk, following which conferences are to be held in each department in the Sunday school from the cradle roll to the home and extension work and special conferences for all Sunday school superintendents and all general class secretaries.

Slight Fire Damage.
Two fire alarms around noon Wednesday resulted in slight damage department officials reported Thursday. The first was received from the Navarro Coffee shop at 12:30 and was caused by a pot of soup and grease boiling over onto a range. The second was received at 1:40 from 545 West Collin Street and was caused by a fire fire.

WORLD'S GREATEST DEMOCRAT MET MEN ON ALL LEVELS *

Shafts of Criticism Hurlled at Jesus Because He Ignored Class Lines—An Old Struggle That Still Rages Today—Is Censoriousness Christian?

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

"A gentleman may do anything," runs the clever old saying. History's perfect gentleman, Jesus, ignored class lines and social conventions, and continued serenely to do so, although he thereby brought storms of criticism around his head. In a day of demagogues, He serenely continued a democrat.

He associated with the lowliest, even with notorious publicans and sinners, and for so doing was bitterly assailed by the Pharisees, who were the upper crust of the society of His day.

He dined with the rich and powerful, and was therefore attacked by the proletariat. In a word, as our Lesson indicates, Jesus challenged the existing social order, and in so doing was a classless society, designed to include rich and poor, aristocrat and outcast.

Right here we should erect the sign, "Stop! Look! Listen!" For we are confronting the gravest issue in the world, in this year 1938. The greatest danger and present struggle of our times is the class conflict. We have stupidly allowed the class issue to become paramount in our western world. Too many men are thinking and speaking in terms of class; still greater numbers are thinking and speaking as the laboring class. Every great contemporary measure is being approached from the class standpoint.

This is both unintelligent and perilous. Pushed to the limit, it is bound to emerge by the Moscow gate. My six hectic months in Russia, during the revolution, taught me that whenever the masses really make up their minds to seize power, nothing can stop them. The blindness of the reactionary old order in Russia smoothed the way for the Bolsheviks.

Of course, after they had won, the Soviets took steps to get rid of religion and of Jesus. They shrewdly perceived that a class war of fear, hatred and oppression, could not continue where Christ the classless leader, really ruled. Germany sees the same. Japan revived its aristocratic heathen cult of Shintoism before it entered upon its savage course of exploitation; a Christianized Japan simply could not do what Japan has done. Nor can the out except a deep, widespread acceptance of the teachings and example of Jesus Christ. If men in places of responsibility were wise they would be buttressing the Church, and doubling the membership of the Sunday School, and promoting all the other forms of teaching and literature which proclaim the power of Christ to make all men brothers.

Uncertain Leaders. Many of us are thinking, day and night, about these uncertain times of ours, and we see no way out except a deep, widespread acceptance of the teachings and example of Jesus Christ. If men in places of responsibility were wise they would be buttressing the Church, and doubling the membership of the Sunday School, and promoting all the other forms of teaching and literature which proclaim the power of Christ to make all men brothers.

It was a newspaper man, Robert Ralke, of Gloucester, England, who established the Sunday School as a method of social service. He saw the menace of what was then the gutter class; and took this practical step to train boys and girls into a better way. Frankly, in our own day, it is more important to bring childhood and youth under the influence of the Master than it is to make speeches before conventions of business men. The two million Sunday School teachers in the United States and Canada are a greater force for stability than a hundred "Liberty Leagues."

Be it remembered that into the class-ridden society of cruel and corrupt Rome, Jesus introduced a wholly new order of gentleness, helpfulness and brotherhood, which within three centuries put the cross above the eagles. Where He has had His way, there good will and fraternity have supplanted class consciousness. In a recent pictorial publication, "The Rising Tide," there is visualized the wonders wrought internationally by the Oxford Group, in breaching old walls of conduct by admitting the guidance and control of Christ.

A Rich Man's Banquet. Our present Lesson portrays the thousands thronging Jesus. It also shows what happen when a rich public official, like Matthew, hears and obeys the Master's call. Odious in his calling, a renegade Jew, Matthew became one of the apostles and biographers of Jesus.

To celebrate his new calling, and to atone to his friends, Matthew gave a great banquet. Though he does not mention it in his own book, Jesus and His friends were there, as well as a motley array of Matthew's old friends, publicans and sinners. Of course, the pious and "proper" Pharisees were shocked.

One trouble with all orthodoxes is that they petrify into procedure. A man told me yesterday that when he was a youth, working in Chicago, he spent most of his wages travelling week-ends to Buffalo, to visit the girl he loved. He arrived on Sunday mornings. Once he was told by his pious prospective mother-in-law that, while she approved of him in general, she would rather have his daughter for an old maid than have a suitor who traveled on Sunday! Her attitude perfectly represents the type of orthodoxy which, in the case of the Pharisees, would condemn Jesus because He broke through class lines and dined with publicans and sinners.

Christians As Critics. "Orthodoxy is my doxy," heterodoxy is your doxy," runs the old saying. Much orthodoxy is not based upon loyalty to great principles, but merely upon personal prejudices and practices. Indeed, the orthodoxy of many persons consists largely in censorious criticism of other Christians who do not conform to their standards. Even John's disciples were grieved by the departure of Jesus from their old code.

They could not grasp the largeness and liberty and love of the new life that the Messiah inaugurated. His kingdom was not a new patch upon the old cloth of the Moslem code; or new wine in the same old bottles. Jesus came sounding the twin notes of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Love to God and love to man, said He, summed up the law and the prophets.

So He would, now as then, change the social order by substituting the law of love, expressed in love for all men, regardless of kind or degree, for the ancient and still-perpetrating class consciousness, with all that it implies. If men will give heed to Him, all the perilous portents of class war will disappear from our horizon.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS. Little things are little things, but faithfulness in little things is sometimes great.—St. Augustine. If you see a fault in others, think of two of your own, and do not add a third one by your hasty judgment.—Flammar.

If Christians like their Lord will be. All men will lose their doubts, and see how real is Christianity.—Marianne Farningham.

Consecration is not wrapping one's self in a holy web in the sanctuary, it is going into the world and using every power for God's glory.—Henry Ward Beecher.

All we, like sheep, have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way.—Isaiah.

Auto Registrations Started In County

Registrations of automobiles in Navarro county started Tuesday at the office of T. A. Farmer, assessor and collector of taxes. The passenger car numbers this year are black letters on a white background.

The first number for Navarro county passenger cars is 885-951. The license plates for 1938 are somewhat larger than in previous years.

One to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. Come to this God, ye weepers, for he weeps; Come to him, yet who suffer, for he cures; Come to him, ye who fear; he pity keeps; Come to him, ye who pass, for he endures. —Victor Hugo.

The longer I live the more highly do I estimate the Christian Sabbath, and the more grateful I feel towards those who impress its importance on the community.—Daniel Webster.

NAME OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES OF HOME DEMONSTRATIONISTS

The following officers and committees will serve the Navarro county home demonstration council for 1938 according to an announcement Tuesday morning by Miss Clara E. Rettiger, county home demonstration agent. The officers were elected from the 1937 membership of the council while the committees were appointed by the 1938 council membership.

The officers are Mrs. Kyle Stokes, Enhouse, chairman; Mrs. D. T. Ray, Powell, vice chairman; and Mrs. J. A. Worth, White's Chapel, secretary-treasurer. Committees include: Education—Mrs. O. K. Vinson, Richland; Mrs. R. P. Garrett, White's Chapel; Mrs. Iva Grimes, Oak Valley; and Mrs. Perry McCullough, Powell.

Standing committees—Yearbook—Mrs. Robert McManus, Enhouse; Mrs. Ernest Watson, Barry; and Mrs. Jim Taylor, Oak Valley. Finance—Miss Hortense Waters, Oak Valley; Miss Katherine Kerner, Powell; and Mrs. Sam Tucker, Oak Valley.

Old Walnut Bed Given to Bedroom Demonstrator

A friend has given an interesting old solid walnut bed of the slat-back type to Ruth York, bedroom demonstrator of the Richland 4-H club.

The antique bed is in good condition, except for the finish, and Miss York plans to remove the old finish and refinish it as a part of her demonstration work, giving her a beautiful piece of furniture for her room and at a minimum cost.

er. Corbett. Exhibit—Mrs. Una Bell, Barry; Miss Dovie Lee Kyser, Independence and Mrs. Charlie Collins, Enhouse.

Expansion—Mrs. W. M. Stough, White's Chapel; Mrs. Bob Evans, Stansell, and Mrs. A. F. Allen, Jones Ranch.

Special committees: Education—Mrs. O. K. Vinson, Richland; Mrs. R. P. Garrett, White's Chapel; Mrs. Iva Grimes, Oak Valley; and Mrs. Perry McCullough, Powell. Chairman 4-H Sponsors—Mrs. O. K. Vinson. The county reporter is Miss Nellie Beale of Oak Valley.

ELBERT WILLIAMS DRAFTED FOR MAYOR UNIVERSITY PARK

The following item appearing under an excellent picture of Elbert Williams, prominent Dallas oil man and former popular Corsican, will be read with interest by his many friends here:

Opposition to the present mayor and commissioners of University Park came into the open Monday night when between seventy-five and 100 men residents of the municipality drafted Elbert Williams, 3508 McFarlin, to run for mayor at the April election. The ticket, its sponsors explained, will oppose annexation as has the present commission.

Mr. Williams' candidacy, as well as those of the two commissioners yet to be placed on the ticket, will be ratified at a public meeting of taxpayers to be called within the next ten days. R. C. Dunlap, president of the school board of the Highland Park independent school district, which includes the University Park schools, was elected chairman of the committee of citizens who met at Varally Inn and drafted Mr. Williams for the race. Various committees from the group will confer with several prominent University Park citizens within the week regarding places as commissioners on the ticket. These will be selected before the date of the public meeting.

Sponsors of the opposition ticket to the present commission explained that the candidates and the citizens sponsoring have no axes to grind, but felt that they were acting for the best interests for University Park.

The ticket will oppose Mayor H. J. Curtis and Commissioners S. J. Hay and Charles D. Turner.

DAWSON, Feb. 1.—(Sp.)—The Harmony W. M. U. ladies entertained Friday night, Jan. 28, with an old time pounding for their pastor, and his wife at the school house. After games and contests were enjoyed, the hidden treasure was found. Several couples first found a mock treasure, then Rev. and Mrs. Calhoun were set out, and called back by singing, to hunt their treasure. They were guided to two lovely, big boxes of groceries and canned fruit.

About 75 enjoyed the occasion very much.

Bank President Ill. DAWSON, Feb. 1.—(Sp.)—C. M. Newton, president of the First National Bank, has been away from his post of duty over two weeks. He has been confined to his bed with a severe case of the flu. It is indeed good news to Mr. Newton's many friends to know that he is slowly improving. We expect to see him on the streets in a few days.

NAVARRO STATUE TO BE COMPLETED AND PLACED BY MAY 1ST

BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER COMMERCE MEET REGULAR SESSION

Routine business occupied the directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce at their regular bi-weekly meeting Tuesday morning.

Minutes of the last session were read and approved. A number of communications were read by Secretary R. W. Knight. One was from John J. Bryant, cotton breeder, emphasizing the importance of a visit of a committee to his breeding plant this week. The secretary then briefly sketched the progress of a standardization or "one variety" campaign in the county.

A letter was read from John V. Singleton, chief of the centennial section of the board of control, announcing that the statue of Jose Antonio Navarro should be completed and in place around May 1, and suggesting that Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul be invited to participate in the ceremonies. The directors suggested that Hon. Richard Mays would be the appropriate speaker for the occasion in view of his extensive research into the life of the Texas patriot.

Invitation received for the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce to be represented at the annual Tyler Chamber of Commerce meeting on February 8. A communication was also read from W. Roy Christian of Tulsa in appreciation of the endorsement of the local chamber for a candidate for director of the national organization. An invitation was also received from the Dallas organization to be represented on a trade trip to Mexico in March.

Committees in charge of various phases of the annual meeting arrangements for Feb. 8 were reported functioning well.

C. S. Dickens, vice chairman of the membership committee, reported an effort had been made to clean up the financial affairs of the organization and that only about $100 was outstanding at present.

Chairman J. M. Dyer of the fair finance committee reported total subscriptions of $14,100 and still a number of prospects to be seen. He outlined plans for the completion of the campaign.

Corsicana Shows Decided Gain In Number Poll Tax

A decided gain in number of poll taxes paid in the city of Corsicana for 1938 was reported Tuesday morning by Tax Collector J. M. Pugh with a total of 1429 issued up to midnight Monday and a number of others in the mail that had accumulated during the past few days.

The tax collector reported that approximately $28,000 was paid in city taxes through the window of the city hall office on Monday, mostly in small amounts.

The total number of receipts compares with 1281 issued in 1937 and 1381 issued in 1936. It is not believed to be a high record although definite figures are lacking, but some attaches recall the poll total running above 1500.

Martin was adopted by the directors and referred to the trade extension committee for action which would include an extensive campaign for "re-selling" Corsicana and Navarro county on its distinct advantages and opportunities.

Secretary Knight reported Ticket Chairman Ed Wendorf had outlined plans for the sale of tickets to the annual chamber banquet, and that none would be available at the door the night of the banquet and all must be secured prior to Monday, February 7.

Committee Named. A committee was named by President W. P. McCombs to work with various agencies in the co-ordinating of the various financial drives by Corsicana organizations to conserve man power and prevent overlapping data.

The committee includes N. Suttle Roberts, chairman; C. S. Dickens, Dr. H. P. Love, Dr. R. C. Curtis, Jay A. Silverberg and Ed M. Folk, Jr.

Mr. Knight reported on a meeting held at the courthouse Monday night at which several representatives of the Texas A. and M. extension service were present and resulted in the preliminary organization for a county agricultural council to correlate and co-ordinate the various activities connected with agriculture.

He also announced that dates for the 1938 Navarro County Fair had been set at a meeting of Texas fair managers held in Dallas last week and that the exhibit would be staged this year the week of October 3-8.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD THURSDAY FOR AUTOMOBILE VICTIM

Funeral services for Jack Price, aged 31 years, of Rice, who was instantly killed at an early hour Wednesday morning when he was struck by an automobile on Highway 75 in the southern part of Corsicana, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Emhouse Baptist church with interment in the Patterson cemetery.

His death was the fifth highway fatality of 1938. James M. Glarady, employee of the Dallas Dispatch, driver of the car, made a statement of incidents of the accident to Mrs. Ethel Hook, assistant criminal district attorney.

Surviving are his wife, three children, Roxie May Price, D. K. Price and Murlin Price, all of Rice; parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Price; eight brothers, Garvin, Preston and Jake Price, of Snyder; Murlin and Ernest Price, Pasadena, Calif.; and D. N. Roy and Elvin Price, all of Rice; a sister, Nellie May Price, Rice. Corley Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

FORMER CORSICANA RESIDENT BE BURIED HERE ON THURSDAY

Herbert A. McConnell, 35, a native of Corsicana but resident of Waco the past three years, died at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Baptist hospital, Waco, and funeral services are planned for 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church with Rev. B. B. Ryus conducting the rites. Interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery.

McConnell had been an employee of the Cooper Grocery Company, Waco, for the last three years. Surviving are his wife and one daughter, Mary McConnell, both of Waco; parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Huitt, Corsicana; six sisters, Mrs. Francis Langan and Mrs. Charles Wilson, both of Mt. Sterling; Mrs. Fred Williams of Englewood, Colo.; Mrs. Cleveland Rymer of Asheville, N. C.; Mrs. Allen Day of Tyler and Mrs. Robert Blakney of Odessa; and two half brothers, Mike Huitt of Los Angeles, Calif., and Sonnie Huitt of Galveston.

Palbearers will be D. C. McCarter, Buford Barnes, Truman Smith, Cliff Alsop, Jess Hart and Jodie Hoffman. Honorary palbearers will be employees of Cooper Grocery Company, Waco. Corley Funeral Home has charge of arrangements.

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy to us during the illness and death of our dear father. Especially do we thank Rev. Leslie G. Thomas for his consoling words, and those who sent the beautiful flowers. We pray that God's richest blessings may rest upon each and every one of you.—Sons and Daughters of Joe H. Hardin.

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $3,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1938.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions accompanying Forms 1040A and 1040.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the amount of net income in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependents, earned income credit, and interest on obligations of the United States and obligations of instrumentalities of the United States. Surplus on surplus net income in excess of $4,000.

INCOME-TAX DON'TS

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions accompanying the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

NO. 8

Exemptions Allowed Couples Married During Taxable Year.

Taxpayers should note that under the Revenue Act of 1938 the credit for dependents as well as the personal exemption is required to be prorated where a change of status occurs during the taxable year, and that these credits are allowable only for the purpose of computing the normal tax but also the surtax. A fractional part of a month is to be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it is considered a month.

For example, a single man and a single woman were married on July 20, 1937, and were living together on the last day of the taxable year, may file a joint return. If they file their returns on the basis of the calendar year, they would be entitled to a personal exemption of $2,083.34, which is seven-twelfths of $1,000 for the husband while single, plus seven-twelfths of $1,000 for the wife while single, plus five-twelfths of $2,500 for the period during which they were married.

If separate returns are filed, each is entitled to a personal exemption of $1,041.67, which is seven-twelfths of $1,000, plus one-half of five-twelfths of $2,500. If during the year 1937 the husband or wife had the status of the head of a family prior to the marriage, he or she would be entitled to his or her pro rata share of the personal exemption of $2,500 allowed the head of a family for the period prior to their marriage instead of merely that allowed a single person. However, for the period of their marriage any exemption to which either might be entitled as the head of a family would be merged in the joint personal exemption for that period. The joint personal exemption allowable in the case of a couple who were married and living together during the entire year may not exceed $2,500.

If a child under 18 years of age and dependent on the parent for support reaches the age of 18 years during the taxable year, the credit of $400 for a dependent is required to be prorated in the same manner as the personal exemption. For example, should the child's eighteenth birthday fall on June 30, the parent would be entitled to claim $200 credit for the dependent child—that is, one-half of $400. The same rule applies to other dependents where a change of status occurs during the taxable year.

NO. 9

Who is the Head of a Family?

A taxpayer, though single, who supports and maintains in a household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependents is based upon some moral or legal obligation, is the head of a family and entitled to the same exemption allowed a married person.

For example, a widower who supports in one household an aged mother and a daughter 17 years old is entitled to an exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family plus a credit of $400 for each dependent, a total of $3,900. The $400 credit, however, does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

Several factors are involved in determining whether a person who files a return as the head of a family is to be thus classified. The element of either legal or financial dependency must exist. A taxpayer, who supports in his home minor children, never when he exercises family control is classified as the head of a family, even though the children may have an income of their own sufficient for their maintenance, if he does not support them, by reason of their own income, but does exercise family control, he cannot be classified as the head of a family.

If an individual supported is an adult and there rests upon the taxpayer a moral or legal obligation to provide a home and care for such individual, the exemption as the head of a family is allowed, provided the individual is financially dependent. If the individual is not financially dependent, the exemption, even though the taxpayer maintains the common

NET BALANCE IN STATE TREASURY IS $26,038,539

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(P)—The aggregate net balance in all state funds on January 31 was $26,038,539. Treasurer Charley Lockhart reported today.

The state remained considerably "in the black" notwithstanding deficits of $16,092,338 in the general fund, $4,617,160 in the Confederate pension and $510,838 in the old age pension funds.

Funds with the largest balances were: State highway $7,631,683; local road assumption, $9,050,411; gasoline tax $3,416,054; permanent school $4,989,750, and avails, $1,014,444.

home and furnishes the chief support does not apply.

For income tax purposes there can be only one head of a family and the exemption cannot be divided. Not infrequently claims for the $2,500 exemption are received from two or more members of a family.

It should be remembered that a single person, whether or not the head of a family, is required to file a return if his or her net income for 1937 was $1,000 or more, regardless of whether the return is nontaxable by reason of the $2,500 exemption.

No. 10.

Exemption Allowed Head of a Family.

A head of a family is defined by income tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependents is based upon some moral or legal obligation."

The exemption allowed a head of a family is $2,500. The phrase "in one household" may be interpreted as meaning the taxpayer's personal residence, an apartment, rooms in a boarding house, hotel, etc.

Under certain circumstances it is not necessary that the taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof during the entire taxable year in order that the taxpayer may be allowed the exemption. If the common home is maintained, the parent is away on business or a child is away at school or on a visit, the exemption is allowable. Moreover, if a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption still applies. In, however, without necessity, the dependent makes his home elsewhere, the beneficiary is not the head of a family.

The same rule is applicable to the term "living together" in the case of a husband and wife. If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or home being maintained, the exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife at a sanatorium does not preclude the exemption. But if the husband continuously makes his home at one place and the wife at another they are not living together within the meaning of the revenue act.

Fewer Poll Tax Receipts Issued Than Year 1936

There had been 7,854 poll tax receipts issued early Tuesday morning at the office of T. A. Farmer, assessor and collector of taxes. The office remained open until midnight Monday night for the last minute rush. A total of 1,509 receipts were issued from 8:30 a. m. Monday until the office closed.

This figure is 423 less than two years ago.

The above figure, however, does not include the orders in the mails. It will be three or four days before the final figures are available. No mail for the past three days had been worked.

Final reports of the collection of advance taxes had not been made Tuesday morning.

ANNUAL MEETING OF LOCAL RED CROSS ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The annual meeting of Navarro County Chapter, American Red Cross will be held at the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce at 4 o'clock, Friday afternoon, February 4, 1938, with the general chairman, J. N. Garitty, presiding.

Reports on the various activities of the chapter, including disaster relief, home service to veterans and service men, volunteer service, chapter production, first aid and life-saving, highway safety and farm and home accident prevention, and Junior Red Cross will be given.

Vacancies on the board of directors caused by the deaths of Miss Dorothy Draper of Corsicana and J. K. Hawthorne of Sreelman and by the moving to Dallas of Ted B. Ferguson are to be filled.

Other business items will include the final analysis of the Roll Call by Mrs. R. E. Mitchell, executive secretary, and the presentation of cards of appreciation to official Roll Call workers by Mr. Garitty.

Every one who has paid Red Cross membership dues for this year or who is a Life or Patron member is eligible to attend the meeting and vote and Red Cross officials are anticipating a large attendance.

Dawson Girls And Boys Basketball Teams Defeated

DAWSON, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—The Dawson basketball girls and boys played the Pursey girls and boys in Purdon Monday afternoon.

The Dawson girls played a hard good game, but were defeated by several points.

The Dawson boys also found their opponents a little too much for them. Pursey proved to be the victor in both games. The final score for the boys was Dawson 3, Pursey 9.

For the girls was Dawson 12, Pursey 18.

Presbyterian E. B. W. Class of Kerens Is Royally Entertained

KERENS, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—Mrs. Ben R. Miller was hostess to the E. B. W. class of the Presbyterian church at her lovely new home on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The house, which is one of Kerens' newest and most modern, was even more lovely with spring flowers in various colored hues.

As this was a business meeting, no program was carried out, other than the devotional, brought by Mrs. H. A. Quait, who read from Mark 12, 22, 31, and gave one of Edgar A. Guest's poems on "Thinking." After disposing of the business, hearing the reports of committees, and the reading of several notes of thanks from recipients of floral offerings in cases of sickness, death, and accidents, Mrs. Fred Jennings dismissed with prayer, and a social hour was enjoyed.

Missionary Society.
KERENS, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—Meeting as usual in the home of their president, Mrs. A. B. Keen, Monday afternoon, the Methodist Missionary Society presented a program on "Neighborhood." Mrs. Keen, leader, selected her devotional from parts of the Book of Mark.

Mrs. Andrew Talley gave a splendid talk on "Looking Ahead." Mrs. Calvin Glass told of "The 46" (missionaries in China). Mrs. C. E. Bruner had as her subject, "The Work Goes On."

Unique Toy Show.
KERENS, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—The first three grades of the Kerens Grammar School held a toy show in their assembly room last Wednesday. Unique in its idea, the show was used as a discussion lesson on toys. The room was decorated to resemble a big store with counters and cases for the boys' toys and the same for the girls.

Each youngster brought his or her favorite mechanical toy, aerobics.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal
No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Longer Waists and Shorter Skirts In New Style Houses

PARIS, Feb. 3.—(P)—Longer waists and shorter skirts are the striking changes greeting newly arrived stylists and buyers viewing the latest collections in the most Paris houses. The new feather hats take the form of white hens or black ducks with red beaks and tails in the air. Patou's new collection stresses the Moyaen age in form-hugging bodices extending below the hips to meet short, pleated skirts just covering the knees. Many two-piece dresses and suits also follow this design. There is a pronounced masculine note in strictly tailored three-quarter jackets for day wear and a similar styling for evening coats.

plane, doll, and so on, each eager to display his dearest treasure.

Kerens Personal Mention.
KERENS, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—Sam Garrett and his guest, Paul Brethaupt of Corsicana, have returned to their studies at A. and M. college after a few days here, on account of mid term exams.

Mrs. Elmer Norton and Mrs. W. L. Bain, Jr., took Miss Mary Helen Ethredge, guest of the latter, to Dallas Monday afternoon, on her return to CIA, Denton.

On next Sunday Miss Ethredge whose home is in Grandview, is to become the bride of John Reagan Logan, of Overton, former Kerens resident.

Miss Garland Mac Chapman came in Tuesday from SMU, for a few days stay with homefolks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gray, Mrs. J. E. Coates and daughter Diane, spent Sunday in Chandler.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bain spent Tuesday in Dallas, with their daughter, Mrs. Harry Hervey.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bain, Jr., were in Dallas Friday, the former attending a Hardware Convention, the latter shopping and visiting.

Mrs. W. T. Stockton spent the week end in Austin, the guest of her niece, Mrs. Jack Bowman, and family.

The two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Floyd is suffering from a light case of scarlet fever.

Miss Bennie Ellis has returned to San Antonio, after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. B. F. Ellis.

Howell Brister was a business visitor to Corsicana Monday afternoon.

Browned Chicken
Five-pound (roaster) 1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1 chicken 4 tablespoons fat
1/4 cup flour 4 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon salt 1 cup boiling water
1/4 teaspoon paprika

Thoroughly clean, cut up and rinse the chicken. Wipe dry. Sprinkle with flour and seasonings. Brown in fat heated in a frying pan. Transfer browned chicken to a roaster. Add butter and half the water. Cover and bake for one hour in a moderate oven. Inspect frequently. Add rest of water and cook another hour or until the chicken is very tender when tested with a fork.

Giblet Gravy
Chicken giblets 4 tablespoons flour
2 cups water 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 chicken 1/4 teaspoon paprika
chicken drippings 1/4 teaspoon celery salt

Wash giblets. Add water. Cover and cook slowly for one hour—or until giblets are very tender when tested with a fork. Chop giblets and let them remain in stock until chicken is done. Mix butter and flour. Add with seasonings to cooked giblet mixture. Add to the drippings left in roaster in which chicken was cooked. Cook slowly and stir constantly until gravy is very creamy and thick.

Grape Celery Salad
1 1/4 cups seeded 1/4 cup pecans
Tokay grapes 1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup diced 1/4 cup salad dressing celery

Mix and chill fruits. Add rest of the ingredients and serve on lettuce.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

THE FLORIST'S STORY.
Some telephone for orchids, and they never ask the cost.
Some toss them in the rubbish
when the first pink blush is lost.
Some purchase them in clusters
and their charm is quickly gone.
But I know they've worked to get it when I sell them only one.
He was cold and he looked hungry and he seemed almost afraid
As I counted over the quarters and the nickels which he paid.
"Shall I send it, sir?" I asked him. "No, I'll take it now,"
he said.
"It's a present for a lady who is lying sick-a-bed."

"She has seen 'em in the windows and on many a pretty dress.
We've walked by here to admire
'em. It's her favorite flower
I guess!"
For the pretty things she's wanted all her life she couldn't pay.
And she's never had an orchid,
but she's getting one today!"

POLITE CHILDREN

A politeness survey was made recently in New York
among children ranging in age from 6 to 18 years and included those of every race, color and economic class in the region. It was found that Chinese children were the most polite of all,
with Italian, French, Japanese, Irish and American children following in that order.

Some of the comments on specific conventions were worth noting. Hattipping on the street was considered unnecessary because it wasn't noticeable in a crowded city anyhow. Subway-pushing was justified because you couldn't get anywhere in a rush-hour crowd without pushing.
Saying "Sir" or "Mam" to teachers, parents or other adults was regarded in some quarters as being "sissy" or a mark of "servility." The Bronx cheer as a legitimate form of criticism was approved by a number of boys and girls.

Boys proved to be more polite than girls and tenement children were more polite than those from fashionable districts. On the whole, a surprising amount of real politeness was discovered and a reassuring belief in its worth. Probably the youngsters made as good a showing as their parents would. It has been "smart" in recent years to be rather brusque and unconventional in speech and manner. A pendulum swing
in the direction of politeness—which is really mostly a matter of human kindness—would do us good.

MERCY KILLING.

The subject of "mercy
killing" is brought up once more by the recent organization of a national society for the legalization of Euthanasia. Among the members and directors are well known educators, psychologists, biologists, nerve specialists and preachers who believe that "with adequate safeguards" it should be made legal to allow suffering from incurable and painful diseases to choose immediate death. The final decision probably would be made by a group of doctors who were convinced that the victim of the disease had no chance for anything but prolonged agony.

A similar society in England some time ago introduced a bill in Parliament to legalize euthanasia. Its members include such men
as Havelock Ellis, Julian Huxley and H. G. Wells.
These proposals always bring a storm of disapproval, although they seem also to arouse a growing favorable response. It is hardly likely that mercy killing will be legalized soon. The provision of truly "adequate safeguards" is too difficult.
The practice would be too subject to human error. The meaning of life and death and suffering is too mysterious for most people to accept the idea of putting another human being to death for any reason.

At the same time, people are becoming less and less resigned to incurable suffering. But they urge greater effort to prevent disease and to discover further means to alleviate pain before resorting to death as a cure.

President Roosevelt had to borrow a dollar to pay for his infantile paralysis ticket, just like other folks.

MORE WEALTH

In the financial year ended April 5, 1936, the number of British millionaires was increased by thirty-eight. The total was the highest since 1929. It is assumed that the rearmament program caused another big increase in 1937, but the figures are not yet available.
If there were only a given amount of wealth to go around, additions to the millionaire group would mean other additions to the improvised group. But the industrial system is supposed to produce and increase wealth. The gain in millionaires ought to mean a gain all along the line
with improvement in income and standard of living even at the foot. If it doesn't, something's wrong that needs remedying.

PIRATES IN RUSSIA

No, we'll never understand the Russian mind.
This conclusion is driven home to us after reading about the reception in Moscow of the Russian version of Stevenson's "Treasure Island."

In filming this 100-percent masculine story the Soviet producers found it necessary to introduce a sex motif, turning Jim Hawkins, the cabin boy, into Jenny Hawkins, and brightening the scene with her dances. There also had to be a patriotic motif, so the quest for gold was twisted around to finance an Irish revolution.

But the behavior of the audience showed how well Russian children are brought up. At the chant of the famous "fifteen men on a dead man's chest" they grew very indignant, shouting, "They're bandits! They're bandits!" Nobody could fool them.

Really, though, the great
pirate yarn might not fare any better in Germany or Italy today. "Authoritarian" countries lose their sense of humor and twist
human nature into a weird pattern.

BOATS AND BOATING

The United States has two oceans, five Great Lakes and a generous assortment of lesser lakes and rivers for the enjoyment of water sports. And yet it is a little surprising to know how much use is made of them.

A reporter at the recent National Motor Boat Show
in New York City was impressed with the statistics
he gathered there. For example, the American Power Boat Association reports 200,000 registered power-driven boats alone. There are also a vast number and

Fidelis S. S. Class
And Baptist W. M. U.
In Monday Session

KERENS, Feb. 1.—(Spl.)—Members of the Bible class rooms of the church Monday afternoon to quilt, working on the third quilt to be used for benevolent purposes.
Two were pieced, quilted and sent to Buckners Orphans Home last month.

A committee meeting of officers of the Fidelis S. S. Class was also held in their classroom at the church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. G. H. Wilmon, president, attended to several business matters, and plans were completed for the box supper to be given at the Kerens hotel next Friday evening.

Box Supper
KERENS, Feb. 1.—(Spl.)—Whorton's Lodge was the scene of a gay old-fashioned box supper, when the Sorority Club entertained their husbands Friday evening. Twelve couples of the younger married set enjoyed games of several kinds,
and then the event of the evening,
the selling of the boxes, occasioned much laughter and surprise.

The sum of $13.00 was realized in this way with which to enrich the club treasury.

COMMISSIONERS OF COUNTY CONSIDER
ROUTINE MATTERS

Routine matters were considered at the regular meeting of the county commissioners court Tuesday morning. Opening of bids for the refunding of $22,000 of Barry Road District No. 3 outstanding optional bonds was a scheduled at the Tuesday afternoon session of the court.
Cleo G. Miller, criminal district attorney, again appeared before the court and renewed his request for an additional assistant to devote his time to the collection of delinquent taxes. He said that there is between $400,000 and $500,000 delinquent taxes on Navarro county properties. No action was taken on the matter Tuesday morning. Miller asked that his request be given a vote
by the court.

Claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.
Lonnie L. Powell, county clerk, exhibited one of the index record books in bad state of repair. The proposed rebinding of several of the old record books will be considered Tuesday afternoon.

By a margin of more than four to one, Corsicana citizens approved the diversion of $24,000, proceeds from market house bonds, to construction of additional classroom facilities for the Corsicana Junior High School plant at a special election held Tuesday, with approximately one-third of the ballot strength participating in the choice. The vote was 471 to 117.

A total of 588 votes were cast, the greater portion of them during the afternoon hours. The check of the polls at 1:45 Tuesday showed only 206 ballots had been cast at that time. It compared favorably with many of the previous elections, and far exceeded the average vote cast in a school board election.

Only one ward voted against the proposal, Ward One, which was against the diversion by the narrow margin of two ballots. Ward Two favored the proposal about two-and-a-half to one, Ward Three about four to one, and Ward Four approximately seven to one.

The results of the election were canvassed at a recess session of the Corsicana city commission at 7:30 Tuesday night, and the resolution declaring the results of the election passed unanimously on motion of Commissioner Burke with a second by Commissioner Garrett. The commission finally adjourned at 7:50 p. m.

The canvass showed the following results:

For.....15 54 198 204 41
Against.....17 21 50 29 117

The election was held under the authority of an act of the second called session of the Texas legislature of 1937, which provides for such election in Texas towns with populations between 15,000 and 15,250 in the last federal census.

BUSINESS

of industry's "little fellows," opened the second day's session of the 1,000 called together by Secretary Roper to assemble their collective business advice for the administration.

The printed program of the meeting listed a conference with Mr. Roosevelt for 2:30 p. m. (SCT) today. This meeting was postponed until 11 a. m. tomorrow after a White House aide said the President was so "overloaded with paper work and mail" that he decided to remain in the white house residential study today and would make no engagements.

Forty-five minutes earlier the little businessmen had gathered in the commerce department's auditorium, to hear Chairman Fred Roth of Cleveland, plead that they conduct themselves "as businessmen" and "not all talk at once."

Less Talkative Work on Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The less talkative delegates to the administration's conference of the "little fellows" tried valiantly today to piece together an economic recovery program from the hundreds of proposals advanced by their colleagues.

Some of the exacting program, for a committee was supposed to submit the recommendations to President Roosevelt at 2:30 p. m., central standard time.

The task, however, didn't appear quite so hopeless as the conference as it did yesterday when nearly all the businessmen were trying to tell each other at the same time what was wrong with the industrial situation.

Gradually the pandemonium of the first session had given way to a semblance of order as nine groups undertook to whip into shape recommendations on as many subjects as the exact program.

When the men reassembled this morning—many had talked in hotel rooms far into the night—there still remained considerable doubt as to the exact program.

Some of the 1,000 visitors talked of creating a special federal agency to make loans to small business. Others said less government interference, not loans, was the crying need.

Still others discussed fixing responsibility of labor unions, ending unfair trade practices, lightening taxes, and stimulating building as ways to help little businesses get on the upgrade again.

One development which threatened to upset the schedule was an attempt by a group headed by A. B. Comstock, Boston consulting engineer, to reorganize the entire conference procedure and delay adjournment until tomorrow.

Small Business Men Are Doing Spending

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—If spending is one way to end the recession, the thousands men attending today's conference of small business conference have done quite a bit to restore prosperity.

They have had to go into their pockets to finance their trips here.

Dan McGillicuddy, lumberman of Aberdeen, Wash., figured his total expenses would be at least $400. He said he was willing to spend money to get to the conference and work out a program that would set the country on its economic feet.

Most fortunate of those attending were the Washington businessmen, who needed only a dime for trolley fare or 20 cents for a taxi to get to the commerce department auditorium.

Expenses for many of the conference exceeded $200. Among those estimating theirs at that amount were E. H. Batcher, Jr., of Minneapolis, Richard Gill of San Antonio, Tex., and C. F. Hawn of Athens.

Mann, listening to the storm of words at yesterday's session, said, "I don't think it'll be money wisely invested."

Should Use Imagination.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—A former top Roosevelt economic adviser, Prof. O. M. W. Sprague, suggested to business today that a greater exercise of its "imagination"—to discover products that the people would buy at low prices—would help to beat the recession.

Professor Sprague participated last night before the economic club in a general discussion of the industrial situation.

The blame for the present situation, he said, rested on both government and business, and smilingly he advised: "X x x we had better not just throw bricks and develop distrust of each other."

Anti-Profitteering Measures Revised

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's request that congress enact legislation to prevent profiteering in war time revenue measures, in both houses of congress.

Senator Connally (D-Texas) of the senate finance committee said he would attempt to attach his anti-war profits proposal to the general tax revision bill when the house sends it to the senate.

Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military committee said he would call up the Hill industrial mobilization bill by February 15. It is on the house calendar.

Unlike the Connally proposal, the Hill bill does not contain tax provisions. It would direct the military department to report to congress, in event of war, a tax schedule designed to prevent profiteering.

Both measures would give the president power in war time to mobilize industrial and material resources and to fix prices.

The Connally bill would impose a graduated scale of individual income taxes in war time, ranging from 10 to 80 per cent on incomes over $50,000. Corporations would be required to pay a tax of up to 77 per cent on undistributed profits.

Some Highlights Business Meeting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Here are some of the highlights of what the representatives of smaller businesses proposed today to the government to end the business recession:

Establish a procedure to encourage new and facilitate loans to small business.

Provide an inexpensive method of securing loans for the purchase of inventory, machinery, and equipment, and for the construction of buildings through an agency designed or created by congress.

Repeat the capital gains tax and undistributed profits tax.

Organize a permanent council of small business men to co-operate with the government.

Encourage investment of private capital in new enterprises.

Curtail government expenditures and balance the federal budget. Eliminate tax free securities.

Clarify provisions of the anti-trust laws and increase the penalties for violation of such laws in stabilized industries.

Adopt the stamp method of collecting social security payroll taxes.

Stop "unwarranted and malicious attacks" on business by administration representatives.

Hold employer and employee alike responsible for the faithful observance of mutual labor agreements.

Give up wage-hour regulatory legislation.

Repeat or amend the Wagner Labor Act.

Prevent labor unions from "harassing and intimidating businesses."

Base taxes on business property on income produced by the business.

Eliminate advertising of the slogan "no down payment."

Protect consumers equities in goods during the purchase period.

at Figueras, 15 miles below the French border.

Late advice reaching the border said three killed were Spaniards who were near the caravan at the time of the raid.

Four American ambulance units were in the motorcade, the Spanish reports said, but it was not known whether any Americans were among the casualties.

The motor train, most of which was said to have been taking French food and clothing to Barcelona, turned back toward the French border.

(In Paris persons in close touch with operations to aid the Spanish government said it was likely "travelling hospital" contributed by the medical bureau for aid to Spanish democracy, operating in the United States, formed part of the caravan bombed at Figueras.)

LARGE CROWD SEES
THREE-RING CRICUS
ON LOCAL GYM COURT

ONE OF RANKING PRO CAGE
TEAMS OF COUNTRY STAG-ED GREAT EXHIBITION

The bewhiskered gentlemen, representing the House of David, professional basketball team, put on their three-ring circus in the junior high gymnasium Tuesday night for the edification of a large number of Corsicana fans. Defeating Johnny Gorty's Flying Red Horses 34-17, the visitors played in New Orleans Monday night, and are booked for a performance at Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches, tonight.

While the Red Horses scored first last night, the House of David was leading 6-5 at the end of the first quarter. 19-7 at the end of the second quarter, and 28-13 at the end of the third quarter. Bill Koche (Morton College, Illinois), wily forward, led the scoring with three field goals and four free shots for 10 points. Chuck Klunder (University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill., all-American) and Bill Steinecke (DePaul, Chicago, Ill.) rated next with 8 points each.

Tom Eady led off for the Red Horses, with two field goals and a free shot for five points, and Oscar Bird and Roland Pollard were next with four points each. Compton and Leonard Allmon made two each.

Advance publicity suggested the House of David team would put on the funniest basketball exhibition ever seen in these parts, and after the final whistle, the customers agreed the bewhiskered individuals had lived up to everything. Their antics, which are their forte, which are in black and white, kept the house laughing from beginning to end.

Top-Ranking Team.

Before being a three-ring circus, the House of David team is one of the top-ranking professional basketball teams in the country, and anyone familiar with the game soon saw that they combined the cleverest and most freakish passing and shooting, to bewilder the Red Horses. Captain Steinecke, who dribbled the ball, and then would shoot from the center line, and almost invariably sink the shot. Koche, forward, had a bewildering dribble and side court shot that was nearly always good for a couple of points, and while moving the ball into the forward court, or passing it, he put on a first-rate imitation of Little Egypt's dance of World Fair fame, and Ann Pennington's imitation of Little Egypt.

Other stunts that interested the basketball loving populace were drop-kicked passes that were deceptive and accurate; another type of kicked pass when the player would drop the ball and whack it with the side of his foot—also unerring; and still another pass—rolled on the floor and the "English" would make the ball deflect from a Red Horse into the hands of a House of David player, or scoot up the receiver's leg into his arms.

Late in the game Clown Koche "guest" refereed for J. D. Warren while the latter lined up with the House of David for a few plays.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—(P)—Great Britain's answer to renewed submarine "piracy" was understood today to be a blunt proposal for "no quarter" retaliation on submerged submarines caught unaccompanied on Mediterranean routes.

This remedy, and reinforcement of naval craft patrolling Mediterranean waters, were described as the main points in suggestions British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden submitted yesterday to France and Italy.

given an interest in oil leases on certain submerged state tracts along the Gulf coast.

McDonald had testified he received $4,000 in salary and attorney's fees for insurance received work during the approximately four and one-half months between his nomination and inauguration as land commissioner in 1936.

Made California Trip.

Heath said he and McDonald made a trip to California in connection with one of those receipts and Clark accompanied them but "had no connection with the matter."

Up to September, 1937, Heath was in charge of banking and insurance litigation under Attorney General McCraw. Sen. Joe L. Hill of Henderson brought out that Heath's brother now worked for McDonald.

Heath said he did not institute negotiations leading to McDonald's procurement of a job as appraiser in oil receivership and as a personal representative of the receiver in another.

The former assistant attorney general was asked about his relationship with Henry Owsley, lawyer of Denton and Austin and brother of Alvin Owsley, United States minister to Ireland.

He said he now "official" with Owsley but they had no business connections. He recommended Owsley's appointment at attorney for a receiver in one instance, he told the committee.

No Account at Gorman.

E. D. David, vice-president of a bank at Gorman in McDonald's home county, testified the land commissioner had not had an account in his bank since 1932, didn't carry one in his wife's name and had no lock box.

At the request of the committee, the attorney general's department supplied a report on all land vacancies in McDonald's home county today after scrutinizing actions of Francis Felty, former employee, yesterday.

Heath and A. R. Stout, special counsel for Governor James V. Alfred, exchanged spirited words when Stout asked Heath the amount of his stipend from an insurance company he represented.

"That's a personal matter," Heath said.

The group yesterday scrutinized actions of Francis Felty, former employee of the land office.

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(P)—Members of a senate committee investigating Land Commissioner William H. McDonald planned further inquiry into the actions of the general land office today after scrutinizing actions of Francis Felty, former employee, yesterday.

Felty, brother of Rep. Fred Felty of San Antonio, is employed by J. R. Chatham and E. H. Harwell of Burburnett, Chatham, principal witness, asserted neither he nor Harwell reaped private gain from Felty's occupancy of the state job.

He said he helped Felty get a job with McDonald but "so far as I know, he had no usefulness while he was in Austin except to the state and the land office."

vidual farmers with the aid of certain subcommittee.

Growers who stayed within their quotas would receive benefit payments and be eligible for loans. If stored supplies became large, the committee said, it could place a limit on sales of all producers, providing two-thirds of those voting in a referendum approved.

Conferees said granary provisions for the separate crops included:

Cotton—Growers would vote on imposing marketing quotas whenever the indicated supply reached 7 per cent above normal. Then a penalty of 2 cents this, and 3 cents hereafter, would apply on each pound grown on land outside allotted acreage.

Wheat—When the supply reached 35 per cent above normal, growers could apply sales limits on each grower. A penalty of 15 cents a bushel would follow on excess sales.

Rice—Quotas could be voted when supply was 10 per cent above normal, excess sales subjected to a penalty of one-fourth cent pound.

In detail, wheat provisions included:

Normal supply of wheat under the granary program is fixed at average annual domestic consumption and export for the previous 10 years plus a reserve of 15 per cent of these. The 1938 level would approximate 805,000,000 bushels.

Marketing Quotas.

If old stocks and indicated production forecast a wheat supply of 35 per cent above export and domestic consumption, a 10-cent penalty would be levied on the wheat. If the supply of wheat was 50 per cent above normal, a 20-cent penalty would be levied on the wheat. If the supply of wheat was 75 per cent above normal, a 30-cent penalty would be levied on the wheat.

Under this all wheat growers would receive certificates for sales of average production on their share of the national acreage. Excess sales would carry a penalty of 15 cents a bushel.

Wheat growers could either keep or store excess wheat. A excess sales would carry a penalty of 15 cents a bushel.

GROESBECK GOATS

HELD CORSICANA TO ONE POINT MARGIN

A hustling Groesbeck Goat five Wednesday night almost sent the Corsicana Bengals down in defeat at Groesbeck. Corsicana won by a one-point margin, 25-27. The Goats led, 14-13 at the half-way mark. As a curtain-raiser, the Goats seconds annexed their first victory over the Bengals, 33-23.

Stanley Norton, guard, paced the Tiger scorers and was high point man of the game when he accounted for 14 points, half of the scores for the Bengals. Kennedy for Groesbeck loped three fielders and converted five free shots for 11 points.

McDougal made 8 points, Griffin 4 and White 2 for the Tigers.

agriculture could increase this loan value.

Growers producing 100 bushels or less are exempted from controls.

Wheat farmers also could participate in the government insurance program approved for a start in 1939. Under this growers would pay a premium of a certain number of bushels to the acre, depending on production and risk data, and receive protection for part of their normal yield from drought, flood, insect pests and other natural hazards.

SINO-JAP

On northern and southern borders of the designated zone's eastern neck, a full million Japanese and Chinese troops are struggling for possession of the Lunghai "lifeline" railway.

Japanese have told of puncturing the southern defenses of the Lunghai corridor by capture of Pengpu.

This advance came after a month in which Japan's war machine was stalled by snow, sleet, blizzards and fierce Chinese resistance. Chinese were said to be digging in for a new stand in the face of air and artillery bombardment.

From the corridor's northern fringe, however, Chinese sent word of successful resistance. They said a Chinese force had driven back a Japanese field army with the reorganized Chinese air force aiding ground troops.

TOKYO, Feb. 3.—(P)—General Gen Sugiyama, minister of war, told a parliamentary committee today about 20,000 Japanese soldiers had been killed in the seven-month-old Chinese Japanese war.

THE MILK DIET.

A milk diet for a time may solve your reduction problem, or if you must clear up a toxic condition for health or just to improve your complexion, this may be all that you need for it.

You are fortunate if you like milk, as it is a complete food, having in it all the chemical elements in the body. It is one of the foods that will carry you through a reducing diet, and it will tide you over any period when you must rest the digestion and clear up a toxic condition. So many doctors advise it as a cure for the above conditions, and even make patients take nothing but milk for a whole month. Cases where patients thought they had chronic diseases, heart affections, and complete exhaustion, were restored to buoyant health by resting their entire assimilative organism through dieting entirely on milk. The same persons continued their usual occupations over the whole dieting period. Such persons would need more than if they had given up the entire period to rest, but the amount of milk is decided by your own needs, for if you feel hungry, you just take another glass. You do not drink it as a means of quenching thirst, for it is food. You sip it to give it every chance for easy digestion.

A glass every two hours would be the average need for an adult. Some sanitarians giving this cure, make the first feeding in the morning a glass of orange juice, then in two hours begin with the milk. Gradually, all the acids and poisons that are in the stomach and especially in the intestines, are washed out, and the whole system can build up again on a new and healthier basis. The complexion will be cleared and be as lovely as a young child's.

Mrs. B. C.—Dandruff is not necessarily a disease, as it may just be an accumulation of dead particles of skin. Scales that have not been sloughed off. It should not be allowed to go on indefinitely, as that means that the scalp suffers, becomes sluggish, and the hair does not get the nourishment for proper growth. Long periods of dandruff become a nuisance and get to be a germ condition. The first thing to do is to stir up the blood by massaging the scalp every day; that alone will bring all dirt in the scalp, and usually will cause all the dandruff to be thrown off. The tendency then may be combated, such as hot oil for extreme dryness, until the scalp makes a complete recovery.

Mrs. H. C.—The formula you mention was a gift from one of the readers, who said that her family had used it for many years with excellent results. It is an eyewash, and the formula is as follows: Camphor water, two teaspoonfuls; witch hazel, two teaspoonfuls; Listerine, two teaspoonfuls, and two cupfuls of boric acid solution. There is a very simple formula, really what most trained nurses use, and it is nothing but a half pint of boiled water with a teaspoonful of boric acid powder dissolved in it. Keep it covered so no dust particles get in to it, and use an eyecup each time you wash the eyes.

CONSTABLE FROM LEON
COUNTY CHARGED CON-NECTION FATAL SHOOTING

Earl Jones, Leon county constable, entered a plea of not guilty when he was arraigned on a murder indictment in the Thirteenth judicial district court Wednesday morning by Cleo G. Miller, criminal district attorney of Navarro county. The officer was indicted by the Leon county grand jury for murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Barney McCoslin, at Buffalo, August 27, last year. McCoslin operated a cafe and dance hall. The case recently was sent here on a change of venue. The jury was completed late Tuesday.

Judge Wayne R. Howell is on the bench. The defense will maintain self defense, questions propounded this morning by the state and state witnesses Wednesday morning indicated.

First Witness Heard. Madge Brand, an attractive brunette, of Mt. Pleasant, former resident of Centerville and an employee of McCoslin at the time of his death, was the first witness to be called.

She testified she had known McCoslin several weeks at the time of his death and that she had known the defendant for about three years. The witness detailed the arrival of Jones on the night of the shooting, serving him soft drinks, and talking to him before the return of her employer. She said she called McCoslin for Jones and she and another woman remained in Jones' car. She admitted she had told Jones McCoslin had fired her following a $2 shortage at the cafe, but that McCoslin denied firing her. The witness said that Jones had vouched for her honesty when McCoslin hired her and the night of the shooting had offered to pay any shortage due McCoslin.

Miss Brand further testified that Jones accused McCoslin of selling whiskey and advised him that he (Jones) would catch him (McCoslin) sooner or later. She said both men were angry at the time and she appealed to them to wait until the following day to settle their differences. She said the men shook hands and agreed to wait until the next day, as she turned around, two shots in rapid succession were heard.

"Barney fell," his shoulder brushing mine," the witness related. She said McCoslin was in his shirt sleeves and did not have any weapon on his person as far as she knew. She said she fainted as she went for a pillow for the wounded man. She said Jones got in his car and left the scene of the shooting. She said McCoslin called her name twice after he was shot.

Cross-Examination. Miss Brand said she did not see Jones take a drink the night of the shooting. She admitted "I drink that time was deputy sheriff of that county. He said he knew McCoslin for several years, and stated McCoslin had beaten up three men with black jacks at his (McCoslin's) place of business. He also testified that McCoslin had been in trouble a number of times and had been indicted in Federal and State courts. He said that Blackie Johnson had communicated a threat to him, allegedly made by McCoslin, and that McCoslin was "carrying a gun" for him (Jones).

JONES TRIAL

Constable Jones said that Jim Ferguson, an employee of the T. P. and L. Buffalo, called him (Jones) in Buffalo at the bus station and asked if Miss Carrie Lou Holmes, Centerville, secretary of the county agent, could ride back to Centerville with him. Jones said Holmes and Mrs. Ferguson were sisters. The defendant said he and Miss Holmes drove to the Big 4 Cafe as he (Jones) had a call to go there, and ordered two soft drinks. The witness said Madge Brand, an employee of the cafe, "never meant anything to me, but we were friends. Her dead brother and I were close friends," Jones said when queried by defense attorneys.

He said Madge Brand asked for a drink and that he told her a half pint of gin was back of the seat (he said he had a bottle of gin in the car). Jones said he was arrested previously on a drunk charge. Jones said the two girls took a drink, but denied he did.

Conceded For Girl's Honesty. The witness related that after McCoslin had driven up to the place, he sent Madge for him (McCoslin). He had previously testified he went to the site of the trouble after his wife and the telephone operator had told him he was wanted at the cafe in Buffalo. Jones said he and McCoslin discussed Miss Brand before McCoslin hired her several weeks previously. Jones said he had been fired relative to $2 shortage in change. He said he (Jones) had told the deceased he would vouch for the girl's once in a while," but was not drinking the night of the trouble as she had been ill several days. The witness said that the proprietor of the cafe had experienced some trouble during the afternoon before the shooting with people who left without paying for some beer purchased and also that Constable Jones had been sent for to come and investigate the matter. She said two pistols were kept in the establishment, but did not say who they belonged to. She denied hearing McCoslin at the time of the trouble asking for some one to go into the cafe and get his gun for him. She also said McCoslin's hands at the time of the shooting.

Miss Brand also denied knowing McCoslin threatened the life of Jones.

The witness admitted she was "in love with Barney" at the time of his death.

Under further questioning, Miss Brand said McCoslin was angry when he went into his cafe immediately before the shooting and said he had his hands in his pocket. She said McCoslin was shot through the heart. McCoslin's wife was not living with him at the time, the witness continued.

Saw Jones in Car. O. B. Padgett, Buffalo, employed as a cook by McCoslin at the time of the trouble, testified he saw Jones sitting in a car when he (Padgett) returned to the place after attending a picture show. He related that he followed McCoslin and Sheets, another employee of the cafe, to the adjoining filling station where the trouble occurred, but returned to the cafe after Jones had told him (Padgett) he (Jones) did not need him present. He said he heard two shots and that he ran out of the cafe, knocking Thelma Martin, an employee, to the floor. He said he returned to the cafe for a pillow, found it on top of an empty box, and discovered McCoslin's gun under the pillow in the bedroom. He said Miss Martin was drunk.

Under cross-examinations at the hands of Neal Padgett, Padgett denied ever seeing another gun at the place except the one he identified. He denied ever seeing McCoslin carrying a pistol or having had guns taken off his person by citizens. He also denied vehemently that Barney came into the cafe and asked for his gun after talking with Jones a short time before he was fatally shot.

He denied discussing the testimony of Thelma Martin with the district attorney.

The courtroom was packed with interested spectators Wednesday morning.

Jury Completed. The completion of the selection of the jury to try the defendant was made Tuesday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock. The entire day was spent in the questioning of special veniremen and regular jurors for the week. The remainder of the regular panel was finally excused by Judge Howell.

The twelve selected were R. T. Puryear, Corsicana; T. S. Hoosier, Frost; L. J. McGraw, Blomberg Grove; Ralph Thelma, Corsicana; P. McSweeney, Kerens; L. C. Cannon, Corsicana; O. L. Betts, Rodney; J. A. Anderson, Kerens; E. D. Ingram, Blomberg Grove; W. P. Murchison, Corsicana and W. M. Davidson, Corsicana.

honestly and offered that night to pay any shortage she owed. He also advised McCoslin, he testified, that Jones was receiving complaints that he (McCoslin) was bootlegging and that the deceased became mad and went into his place of business for witnesses. The constable said McCoslin, Travis Sheets and Ocie Padgett, employees of the establishment, returned and he (Jones) sent Padgett back into the cafe. Jones said the victim was drunk at the time and they agreed to settle any differences the following day or later.

Jones testified that McCoslin cursed him after they had shaken hands and told him he (McCoslin) would get his gun. Jones said McCoslin's gun hung in his pocket as he tried to jerk it out.

"I fired two shots. He made him do it," the constable continued.

He said he ran to his car and told Miss Holmes that he had had to do what he had done. He said Miss Holmes was screaming and shouting the would lose her job. He said he carried Miss Holmes to her home in Centerville after the trouble.

Cross Examination. Under cross-examination at the hands of Special Prosecutor M. E. Gates, of Huntsville, Jones admitted two of the men allegedly beaten up by McCoslin paid fines for disturbing the peace. He also said McCoslin denied firing Madge Brand shortly before the shooting. Jones denied he (Jones) shot the deceased as he (McCoslin) reached to shake hands and also denied salting the victim's hands as he was down. He said he and McCoslin and others talked about a half hour before the shooting.

Sheriff Lee Thomason of Centerville was recalled shortly before noon and testified the reputation of Jones for truth and veracity was good.

Dillard Talbott, owner of the garage adjacent to McCoslin's place, was the first witness called Thursday morning. He was not present at the time of the trouble, but said McCoslin was the type of person who would carry out a threat. He admitted, however, that he (Talbott) had never had any trouble with the deceased.

W. R. Kay, Madisonville, truck driver, said he arrived at the scene five or seven minutes after the shooting and said the right pocket of the victim's trousers was half turned out.

B. J. Cadenhead, Buffalo, testified Jones' reputation was good.

Tells of Pistol. Thelma Martin, Amarillo, an employee of McCoslin at the night of the shooting, testified she gave McCoslin his pistol a short time before the shooting and believed when she heard the shot that McCoslin had fired someone. She denied being drunk or that Ocie Padgett, another employee, had ran over her when the shooting started. She said she gave McCoslin his gun and before the shooting and he came back for Sheets and Padgett a few minutes before the shooting. She said McCoslin put the gun in his pocket after she had given it to him.

Miss Martin said she believed there was a slot machine in the beer joint where she was employed and said Jones had been at the place on several occasions, but did not say he was inside the cafe. She testified the deceased had beaten up his wife and that he carried a pistol frequently.

Ad. Mae Calhoun, aged 33 years, of Engula, was in the cafe when the shooting occurred.

Her testimony also was that McCoslin got the gun from Thelma Martin some time before the trouble, and put it in his right pocket.

Tells of Shooting. Carrie Lou Holmes, 28, an attractive brunette, Jewett and Centerville, secretary to the Leon county agent, testified that she and Jones, testified about her brother-in-law asking Jones to allow her to ride back home with him. She told of going to the Big 4 Cafe where the shooting occurred and that previously introduced her preliminary incidents. Miss Holmes said she was sitting in the car and did not hear any of the conversations prior to the shooting. She said when she heard the shots, she looked around quickly and saw McCoslin falling backwards with a pistol in his hand. She said Constable Jones ran to the car in which she was sitting, started at and told her not to scream as he (Jones) had had to kill McCoslin or get killed.

The witness said Madge Brand was drinking when she came to their car earlier in the evening. She said she (Miss Holmes) broke the seal on the half-pint bottle of gin and the two girls took drinks, but Jones did not.

Wednesday Afternoon Session. After three state witnesses had testified and the state announced it was resting, fifteen defense witnesses were called before court recessed.

L. N. Brewer, Buffalo, justice of the peace, was the first witness of the afternoon. He recalled being summoned to the scene of the shooting immediately after its occurrence. He said Jones was not present when he arrived and that the deceased was lying with his head on the curb at the nearby filling station.

Johnson testified he communicated the threat to Jones at Centerville early in the evening of August 7 when Jones told him he had been called to go to Buffalo. Johnson said he asked Jones to go with him to Huntsville and warned him to look out for McCoslin if he went to Buffalo as McCoslin had said he disliked Jones.

Considerable testimony given before the Leon county grand jury was gone over with the witness by State Attorney Gates. He admitted he did not tell about the gun before the grand jury, and did not recall all the questions propounded to him on this occasion. He said he told the truth before the probers. Johnson said that McCoslin told him (Johnson) that he (McCoslin) had as soon use the gun on Jones as not when Johnson tried to get him to give over his pistol at the rodeo.

On re-direct examination, Johnson said he could not swear to gun submitted was the same pistol McCoslin was wearing on July 4, but stated it was a similar weapon.

ed the right leg near the knee and emerged near the upper part of the thigh. He said he searched the pockets and did not find another gun. He identified a gun exhibited.

E. B. Hamilton, Teague undertaker, described the wounds on McCoslin's body. His testimony was the same as that given by the justice of the peace.

Dan McCurley, Tyler truck driver, testified he was eating supper about two blocks from the scene of the trouble and went to the site immediately. The witness related he saw two men carrying a woman toward the cafe and the dead man lying at the filling station. He said someone brought a pillow.

Under cross-examination, McCurley testified that the lining of the right pocket of the trousers worn by McCoslin was half pulled out.

State Tests.

After attorneys agreed that Jones killed McCoslin by shooting him with a pistol and entered the same in the record, the state announced it rested its case at 2:55 p. m.

Former District Judge S. W. Dean of Navasota was the first defense witness called. Judge Dean served as district judge for seventeen years and formerly was in the Legislature. He said he had known Jones since 1920 and that he bore a good reputation.

He said McCoslin had a bad reputation in Leon county. Among other witnesses to testify that Jones was a peaceful, law-abiding citizen included H. F. Kirby, Groesbeck, judge of the county's judicial district; district court Charles McMichen, principal of Frost high school; J. R. Sessions, Fairfield, sheriff of Freestone county; Rev. W. A. Chisholm, Oakwood, Baptist minister; Claude Wilson, teen gunsmith farmer; Leo Thomason, Centerville, sheriff of Leon county, who also said that McCoslin was regarded as a dangerous, violent and vicious character; B. M. Bain, Centerville, druggist, farmer and cattleman, former deputy sheriff; L. D. Thompson, Leona, merchant; Tom Cochran, Buffalo, hardware and grocery merchant; and Farmer and Henson, Buffalo, filling station operator, who also testified McCoslin bore a reputation as a violent man; Bob Reeves, Franklin, sheriff of Robertson county; and E. B. Madisonville, sheriff of Madison county.

H. L. Carrington, Marquez, farmer, banker and stockman, said he had known McCoslin for 20 or 25 years and termed him "offensive" and had seen a gun on his (McCoslin's) person several times. He said the deceased was not afraid of anyone and possibly would carry out a threat made. He said that Jones' reputation was good as far as he knew.

Tells of Threat. Centerville, Judge H. L. Johnson, a beer garden and formerly of Marquez, said that McCoslin bore a bad reputation and that he (Johnson) heard McCoslin threaten Earl Jones several times. He said McCoslin was drinking and armed and he (Johnson) made an unsuccessful effort to get a gun from him.

Johnson testified he communicated the threat to Jones at Centerville early in the evening of August 7 when Jones told him he had been called to go to Buffalo. Johnson said he asked Jones to go with him to Huntsville and warned him to look out for McCoslin if he went to Buffalo as McCoslin had said he disliked Jones.

Considerable testimony given before the Leon county grand jury was gone over with the witness by State Attorney Gates. CRIMINAL APPEALS COURT RULES BANK NIGHTS LOTTERIES

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The court of criminal appeals today made final its decision that bank nights are lotteries and overruling a motion for rehearing by H. S. Cole, Bonham theater proprietor.

The highest criminal tribunal last year affirmed Cole's conviction and $100 fine for "bank nights" in his attempt to secure a rehearing he cited additional authorities to show the element of lottery was not involved but the court rejected these.

In his dissenting opinion, Judge Leary said that a scheme, in his judgment, for the purpose of distributing prizes by chance, "the opinion by Judge Harry Graves, said. The original affirming opinion was reversed by the late Judge O. S. Latimer.

"We are aware of the fact that some of the decisions of other states are in conflict with the one entertained here; also, we are aware of the fact that the opinions of other states uphold the expression found in these opinions," Judge Graves wrote.

manuscript, delivering it slowly and with emphasis. He reviewed the repeated efforts to pass such legislation since 1934 and the unrelenting filibusters which blocked it on each occasion.

"When unanimous consent was given that the bill be made the unfinished business of the senate on January 6," he said, "we had every reason to expect that an early vote would be obtained. That vote we are entitled and determined to have. The country is agreed, I am sure, that democratic government demands a chance to vote as well as a chance to talk."

Denouncing lynching, Wagner said that "if the national horror and disgrace of one lynching can be prevented by effective federal action, I am in favor of taking that action."

Action on Couple Of Major Measures

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Members of congress chafed today for the first month of their 1938 session:

1. Senate-house committee completed the final draft of the control legislation. Quick ratification by both chambers was expected.

2. A bill designed to stimulate home construction by reducing government insured mortgage requirements was ready for the President's signature.

Although leaders agreed that the record of surface achievements since January 3, 1937, was unimpressive, they said more work than usual had been done during the first month.

Enough progress has been made on routine appropriation bills and the tax revision program so that some members were talking optimistically of an early adjournment.

The house has passed three of the nine regular supply bills—$1,420,000,000 for independent agencies, $1,400,000,000 for the treasury and post office department, and $540,000,000 for the navy.

Even senate leaders contended progress has been made despite the month's filibuster against the anti-lynching bill. They forecast that this troublesome issue would be shelved within a week, although some opponents said efforts to pass the bill might be renewed later in the session.

The senators suggested they might try to attach a modified version of the measure as a "ridiculous" to some vital appropriation bill.

Would Probe Monopolies. WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Representative Dies (D-Tex.) introduced today a resolution for the creation of a congressional committee to investigate any existing monopolies in the United States and to recommend remedial legislation.

Dies Bill Approved. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The House Merchant Marine committee approved today a bill by Representative Dies (D-Tex.) for establishment of a board of local steamboat inspectors at Port Arthur, Texas.

Would Expand Airmail. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The senate appropriations committee recommended today that congress provide $985,177 for expansion of the air mail service during fiscal 1939.

Of this amount, $400,000 was proposed for a new schedule between Silk Lake City and Chicago. From the fund sums were asked for continuing during the fiscal year 1939. The new schedule to be established during the current year.

sidered any plans for "quarantining" aggressor nations.

Brewster asked the question in reference to President Roosevelt's foreign policy speech at Chicago. Maas wanted to know whether a successful blockade of United States ports would permit a foreign power to "conquer" the United States without a military conquest.

"A blockade would put very serious pressure on the people of the United States if the fleet were destroyed," Leary replied, "but I am unable to say whether they would submit."

Extremely Hazardous. Leary said earlier it would be "extremely hazardous for any nation to make an invasion in force on our home land." He said it would be very easy if any power should be so skillful or fortunate as to destroy the fleet.

Before Leary testified, a proposal to revive dirigible building developed in the committee.

Rep. O'Connell (D-R. I.) said he would offer an amendment to the $800,000,000 naval expansion bill to set aside at least $6,000,000 to build two lighter-than-air cruisers.

He said he would stipulate that the ships be built in this country by American engineers and would advocate that they be of a current type of design than the skeleton hull used in the ill-fated Akron and Macon, whose destruction halted experiments with dirigibles in this country.

While the naval committee went ahead with hearings on the bill to authorize construction of 47 new warships and 22 auxiliaries, Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the house military committee said he would proceed with other legislative phase of President Roosevelt's national defense program.
